

Zion's Herald and Wesleyan Journal.

W Carpenter 1247 Wat'r'y

PUBLISHED BY THE BOSTON WESLEYAN ASSOCIATION, FOR THE NEW ENGLAND CONFERENCES OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

VOL. XXXVII. N. E. CORLEIGH, D.D., Editor.
FRANKLIN RAND, Publishing Agent.

BOSTON, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1866.

Terms, $2.50, strictly in advance.
Office, No. 11 Cornhill, Boston. NO. 39.

For Zion's Herald.

RADICALISM.

Especially inscribed to the "Boys in Blue."

secret smiling babe of beauty rare,

That nestles at thy mother's knee—

The bonded slave with brow so fair

Will ever from the taint be free?

No lovelier tender fills those eyes;

A bigger sobs burst from her heart,

The mother's breast's a fount of sighs,

Sighs from her loved one soon must part;

He comes! the scowling Southron's face,

Glares on the twain withullen brow.

Spurs with his foot the hated race,

The falls the lash with cruel blow.

Ye try escape the anguished lip,

No te falls down upon her child,

Her eyes see not the master's whip,

She lifts to God those dark orbs mild,

How long, O Lord!" her bitter cry,

"Shall Afric's dusky race be crushed?

On these chains forever lie?

Nor ever be our waiting bashed?"

The master heard the pleading prayer,

His swarthy cheek grew pale with fear,

A guilty conscience bade beware,

His black heart knew that God would hear.

Fell well he knew the Northmen brave,

Obedient to the higher will,

Had sworn an oath to free the slave,

"Our country's mission" to fulfill.

Even now the warlike trumpet's blast

Breaks on his ear with thrilling note,

Sounding on his doom, his hour is past,

While on his sleeve the day hath broke.

The mother heard the joyous strain,

And knew her prayer was answered. Now her eyes have lost their look of pain,

Sweet hope and joy sit on her brow,

Her prayer was for—"Boys in Blue,"

To the land rich blessings fall,

While battling for the right and home,

Obedient to their country's call.

They mount upon a bounding steed,

The dauntless soul and her child,

Forever from her slave bonds freed.

While rings the air with buzzes wild,

Then on their mission dashed the brave,

To older scenes of war and strife,

Nor stayed their course! even every slave

Was forced from bonds and woke to life.

God bless the "Boys in Blue,"

Is ever now the Freedman's prayer,

Who fought the fight so brave and true,

And wear their laurel chaplets fair.

S. ADAMS WIGGINS.

CENTENARY MISSION HOUSE.

The General Centenary Committee has placed amongst the various objects of our Centenary the building of a Mission House.

The ladies of the New York branch of the American Ladies' Centenary Association have agreed to take up the principal object to which they will devote their efforts. They do not propose themselves to build the Mission House; they propose to aid in this work.

The enterprise, if it is carried out in a manly manner, would be creditable to the church, among the connectional objects, and it is desirable that the whole church should contribute to this purpose.

All business men who know us, and agents of the various objects of our Centenary society are prepared to admit at once the propriety and importance of this object.

"Our

Centenary will be a credit to the church, among the connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the

connectional objects, and it is desirable that

they should be built by the church, among the connection

MISSIONS.

FROM OUR MISSION ROOMS AT NEW YORK.

On Wednesday Afternoon.—A Methodist preacher and his wife, true to their traditions, send us word that they must have $1,000 in our new Mission House. So this matter is moving forward, and we shall have more to say about it again. Dr. Reid, the Head.

The Mission House, backed by the great city of New York, with the Ladies' Society there laboring in its behalf, seems now to promise the only opportunity to leave a noble connectional and visible monument of our grand Centenary.

It is a work of infinite value & it makes the shadow of the location. The building will not be a mere ornament, a cold and useless ornament, but will also meet the necessities of our growing mission. It will be a permanent monument, and built that it will be a perpetual investment for this noble cause; for, besides what the Society may use, the rentals may soon surpass equal the interest on all its costs. See it in the Bible-House of New York. Who gives, in this direction is really giving to missions, as well as rearing a monument of his gratitude to God.

"We feel it is the necessity of the age to give a church to the world. A church that has so loved the great work of the world as has ours, will not fail to give its Missionary Society a suitable house. Bring it out, let them see that, and give it a home. We have done our duty in helping to build the building of parsonages, by perhaps a little too strongly characterizing him as a brother. We believed he deserved a better one, a better lord, and we were thinking of him. But the Missionary Society will forgive our terms. These rooms are altogether inadequate. They are disgraceful to so great an institution. This is just the year to enlarge the place of our tent and rear a Mission House."

This is an earnest plea. It means something. It means we must have at least one connectional success, and that it is not too late to make it so; that if we will have it, we will have it.

We will have its full share in the building, and let it be the grateful rearing of an entire church. We plead for a Mission House."

The SEA CAPTAIN'S WIDOW.—One of the largest offerings of which we have yet received was made for the Missions House from a widow who had been a member of the New England Conference.

Rev. James BAYNE.—This missionary from India recently arrived, bringing with him a very feeble wife and three children. That his wife, who has done her full share of missionary labor, should come to us safe, is marvellous indeed, and merits our most hearty thanks to the Father of mercies.

The Centenary.

NEW HAMPSHIRE CONFERENCE.

At a meeting of the New Hampshire Conference Committee, it was voted that the Presiding Elders and Agent should arrange for Centenary services at each appointment in the Conference.

We now present plan leaving it with the chairman of the sub-committee to make arrangements associated with him as to the time of holding the services, and also to secure such other assistance as he may be able, not forgetting to call in such lay talents as may be available, and to make such meetings be held in all the land, and the kindling flame of revival shine forth from every church?

* *

SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR THE LADIES' CENTENARY.

NEW ENGLAND.

Miford—Mrs. G. L. Leonard, $10; smaller subscriptions, 83.

Dudley—Mrs. Rev. D. Dorchester, $10; Mrs. Rev. D. Treadwell, $10; Mrs. Henry Davis, $10; Mrs. Anna Davis, 10.

Total, $33.

The Board of Managers of the Ladies' Centenary Association are requested to meet on Thursdays at 10 o'clock, at the usual hour and place.

Ladies' Centenary meeting on Monday, Oct. 1st, at 8 o'clock, P. M.

Corresponding SECRETARY.—Miss Frances Willard, Corresponding Secretary of the American Methodist Ladies' Centenary Association, having resigned, Miss Kildner, of Evanston, has been elected her successor.

VERMONT CONFERENCE LADIES' CENTENARY ASSOCIATION.—At the meeting held in Montpelier, Vt., Sept. 5th, the subscriptions amounted to nearly $650. Mrs. Rev. A. G. Button and Mrs. Paul McKinstry were made the first patrons of the Female College, by payment of $150 each.

CONCORD DISTRICT.

Congregational-Chesterfield, London, Fisherup, Webster, and Warren.—Rev. F. E. Parker, A. M. Matteson, and Rev. C. C. Parker, D. D.

Manchester, First Church, Suncook Bow, Hooksett.—N. Culver, Chairman; Wm. H. Thomas, N. L. Chase, James Adams.

Warren, Piermont, Haverhill, North Haverhill, East and West, Franklin, Lancaster, Gilman, L. Lincoln, Franklin, D. P. Peavitt, Chalmers, L. D. Barrows, N. P. Philbrick, N. J. Squires, C. E. Rogers, W. C. Case.

Errol, Alton, Cornish, and Salisbury, Plymouth, Rumney, North Groton and Dorchesters, Thirteenth, Chairman: H. L. Kellogg, J. Hooper, J. H. Griffin, E. A. Branson, and Montmorency, South Tamworth, and Wolfeboro, Osceola, A. M. Matteson, and Rev. F. E. Parker, D. D.

Manchester, First Church, Suncook Bow, Hooksett.—N. Culver, Chairman; Wm. H. Thomas, N. L. Chase, James Adams.

Warren, Piermont, Haverhill, North Haverhill, East and West, Franklin, Lancaster, Gilman, L. Lincoln, Franklin, D. P. Peavitt, Chalmers, L. D. Barrows, N. P. Philbrick, N. J. Squires, C. E. Rogers, W. C. Case.

Errol, Alton, Cornish, and Salisbury, Plymouth, Rumney, North Groton and Dorchesters, Thirteenth, Chairman: H. L. Kellogg, J. Hooper, J. H. Griffin, E. A. Branson, and Montmorency, South Tamworth, and Wolfeboro, Osceola, A. M. Matteson, and Rev. F. E. Parker, D. D.

Manchester, First Church, Suncook Bow, Hooksett.—N. Culver, Chairman; Wm. H. Thomas, N. L. Chase, James Adams.

Warren, Piermont, Haverhill, North Haverhill, East and West, Franklin, Lancaster, Gilman, L. Lincoln, Franklin, D. P. Peavitt, Chalmers, L. D. Barrows, N. P. Philbrick, N. J. Squires, C. E. Rogers, W. C. Case.

Errol, Alton, Cornish, and Salisbury, Plymouth, Rumney, North Groton and Dorchesters, Thirteenth, Chairman: H. L. Kellogg, J. Hooper, J. H. Griffin, E. A. Branson, and Montmorency, South Tamworth, and Wolfeboro, Osceola, A. M. Matteson, and Rev. F. E. Parker, D. D.

Manchester, First Church, Suncook Bow, Hooksett.—N. Culver, Chairman; Wm. H. Thomas, N. L. Chase, James Adams.

Warren, Piermont, Haverhill, North Haverhill, East and West, Franklin, Lancaster, Gilman, L. Lincoln, Franklin, D. P. Peavitt, Chalmers, L. D. Barrows, N. P. Philbrick, N. J. Squires, C. E. Rogers, W. C. Case.

Errol, Alton, Cornish, and Salisbury, Plymouth, Rumney, North Groton and Dorchesters, Thirteenth, Chairman: H. L. Kellogg, J. Hooper, J. H. Griffin, E. A. Branson, and Montmorency, South Tamworth, and Wolfeboro, Osceola, A. M. Matteson, and Rev. F. E. Parker, D. D.

Manchester, First Church, Suncook Bow, Hooksett.—N. Culver, Chairman; Wm. H. Thomas, N. L. Chase, James Adams.

Warren, Piermont, Haverhill, North Haverhill, East and West, Franklin, Lancaster, Gilman, L. Lincoln, Franklin, D. P. Peavitt, Chalmers, L. D. Barrows, N. P. Philbrick, N. J. Squires, C. E. Rogers, W. C. Case.

Errol, Alton, Cornish, and Salisbury, Plymouth, Rumney, North Groton and Dorchesters, Thirteenth, Chairman: H. L. Kellogg, J. Hooper, J. H. Griffin, E. A. Branson, and Montmorency, South Tamworth, and Wolfeboro, Osceola, A. M. Matteson, and Rev. F. E. Parker, D. D.

Manchester, First Church, Suncook Bow, Hooksett.—N. Culver, Chairman; Wm. H. Thomas, N. L. Chase, James Adams.

Warren, Piermont, Haverhill, North Haverhill, East and West, Franklin, Lancaster, Gilman, L. Lincoln, Franklin, D. P. Peavitt, Chalmers, L. D. Barrows, N. P. Philbrick, N. J. Squires, C. E. Rogers, W. C. Case.

Errol, Alton, Cornish, and Salisbury, Plymouth, Rumney, North Groton and Dorchesters, Thirteenth, Chairman: H. L. Kellogg, J. Hooper, J. H. Griffin, E. A. Branson, and Montmorency, South Tamworth, and Wolfeboro, Osceola, A. M. Matteson, and Rev. F. E. Parker, D. D.

Manchester, First Church, Suncook Bow, Hooksett.—N. Culver, Chairman; Wm. H. Thomas, N. L. Chase, James Adams.

Warren, Piermont, Haverhill, North Haverhill, East and West, Franklin, Lancaster, Gilman, L. Lincoln, Franklin, D. P. Peavitt, Chalmers, L. D. Barrows, N. P. Philbrick, N. J. Squires, C. E. Rogers, W. C. Case.

Errol, Alton, Cornish, and Salisbury, Plymouth, Rumney, North Groton and Dorchesters, Thirteenth, Chairman: H. L. Kellogg, J. Hooper, J. H. Griffin, E. A. Branson, and Montmorency, South Tamworth, and Wolfeboro, Osceola, A. M. Matteson, and Rev. F. E. Parker, D. D.

Manchester, First Church, Suncook Bow, Hooksett.—N. Culver, Chairman; Wm. H. Thomas, N. L. Chase, James Adams.

Warren, Piermont, Haverhill, North Haverhill, East and West, Franklin, Lancaster, Gilman, L. Lincoln, Franklin, D. P. Peavitt, Chalmers, L. D. Barrows, N. P. Philbrick, N. J. Squires, C. E. Rogers, W. C. Case.

Errol, Alton, Cornish, and Salisbury, Plymouth, Rumney, North Groton and Dorchesters, Thirteenth, Chairman: H. L. Kellogg, J. Hooper, J. H. Griffin, E. A. Branson, and Montmorency, South Tamworth, and Wolfeboro, Osceola, A. M. Matteson, and Rev. F. E. Parker, D. D.

Manchester, First Church, Suncook Bow, Hooksett.—N. Culver, Chairman; Wm. H. Thomas, N. L. Chase, James Adams.

Warren, Piermont, Haverhill, North Haverhill, East and West, Franklin, Lancaster, Gilman, L. Lincoln, Franklin, D. P. Peavitt, Chalmers, L. D. Barrows, N. P. Philbrick, N. J. Squires, C. E. Rogers, W. C. Case.

Errol, Alton, Cornish, and Salisbury, Plymouth, Rumney, North Groton and Dorchesters, Thirteenth, Chairman: H. L. Kellogg, J. Hooper, J. H. Griffin, E. A. Branson, and Montmorency, South Tamworth, and Wolfeboro, Osceola, A. M. Matteson, and Rev. F. E. Parker, D. D.

Manchester, First Church, Suncook Bow, Hooksett.—N. Culver, Chairman; Wm. H. Thomas, N. L. Chase, James Adams.

Warren, Piermont, Haverhill, North Haverhill, East and West, Franklin, Lancaster, Gilman, L. Lincoln, Franklin, D. P. Peavitt, Chalmers, L. D. Barrows, N. P. Philbrick, N. J. Squires, C. E. Rogers, W. C. Case.

Errol, Alton, Cornish, and Salisbury, Plymouth, Rumney, North Groton and Dorchesters, Thirteenth, Chairman: H. L. Kellogg, J. Hooper, J. H. Griffin, E. A. Branson, and Montmorency, South Tamworth, and Wolfeboro, Osceola, A. M. Matteson, and Rev. F. E. Parker, D. D.

Manchester, First Church, Suncook Bow, Hooksett.—N. Culver, Chairman; Wm. H. Thomas, N. L. Chase, James Adams.

Warren, Piermont, Haverhill, North Haverhill, East and West, Franklin, Lancaster, Gilman, L. Lincoln, Franklin, D. P. Peavitt, Chalmers, L. D. Barrows, N. P. Philbrick, N. J. Squires, C. E. Rogers, W. C. Case.

Errol, Alton, Cornish, and Salisbury, Plymouth, Rumney, North Groton and Dorchesters, Thirteenth, Chairman: H. L. Kellogg, J. Hooper, J. H. Griffin, E. A. Branson, and Montmorency, South Tamworth, and Wolfeboro, Osceola, A. M. Matteson, and Rev. F. E. Parker, D. D.

Manchester, First Church, Suncook Bow, Hooksett.—N. Culver, Chairman; Wm. H. Thomas, N. L. Chase, James Adams.

Warren, Piermont, Haverhill, North Haverhill, East and West, Franklin, Lancaster, Gilman, L. Lincoln, Franklin, D. P. Peavitt, Chalmers, L. D. Barrows, N. P. Philbrick, N. J. Squires, C. E. Rogers, W. C. Case.

Errol, Alton, Cornish, and Salisbury, Plymouth, Rumney, North Groton and Dorchesters, Thirteenth, Chairman: H. L. Kellogg, J. Hooper, J. H. Griffin, E. A. Branson, and Montmorency, South Tamworth, and Wolfeboro, Osceola, A. M. Matteson, and Rev. F. E. Parker, D. D.

Manchester, First Church, Suncook Bow, Hooksett.—N. Culver, Chairman; Wm. H. Thomas, N. L. Chase, James Adams.

Warren, Piermont, Haverhill, North Haverhill, East and West, Franklin, Lancaster, Gilman, L. Lincoln, Franklin, D. P. Peavitt, Chalmers, L. D. Barrows, N. P. Philbrick, N. J. Squires, C. E. Rogers, W. C. Case.

Errol, Alton, Cornish, and Salisbury, Plymouth, Rumney, North Groton and Dorchesters, Thirteenth, Chairman: H. L. Kellogg, J. Hooper, J. H. Griffin, E. A. Branson, and Montmorency, South Tamworth, and Wolfeboro, Osceola, A. M. Matteson, and Rev. F. E. Parker, D. D.

Manchester, First Church, Suncook Bow, Hooksett.—N. Culver, Chairman; Wm. H. Thomas, N. L. Chase, James Adams.

Warren, Piermont, Haverhill, North Haverhill, East and West, Franklin, Lancaster, Gilman, L. Lincoln, Franklin, D. P. Peavitt, Chalmers, L. D. Barrows, N. P. Philbrick, N. J. Squires, C. E. Rogers, W. C. Case.

Errol, Alton, Cornish, and Salisbury, Plymouth, Rumney, North Groton and Dorchesters, Thirteenth, Chairman: H. L. Kellogg, J. Hooper, J. H. Griffin, E. A. Branson, and Montmorency, South Tamworth, and Wolfeboro, Osceola, A. M. Matteson, and Rev. F. E. Parker, D. D.

Manchester, First Church, Suncook Bow, Hooksett.—N. Culver, Chairman; Wm. H. Thomas, N. L. Chase, James Adams.

Warren, Piermont, Haverhill, North Haverhill, East and West, Franklin, Lancaster, Gilman, L. Lincoln, Franklin, D. P. Peavitt, Chalmers, L. D. Barrows, N. P. Philbrick, N. J. Squires, C. E. Rogers, W. C. Case.

Errol, Alton, Cornish, and Salisbury, Plymouth, Rumney, North Groton and Dorchesters, Thirteenth, Chairman: H. L. Kellogg, J. Hooper, J. H. Griffin, E. A. Branson, and Montmorency, South Tamworth, and Wolfeboro, Osceola, A. M. Matteson, and Rev. F. E. Parker, D. D.

Manchester, First Church, Suncook Bow, Hooksett.—N. Culver, Chairman; Wm. H. Thomas, N. L. Chase, James Adams.

Warren, Piermont, Haverhill, North Haverhill, East and West, Franklin, Lancaster, Gilman, L. Lincoln, Franklin, D. P. Peavitt, Chalmers, L. D. Barrows, N. P. Philbrick, N. J. Squires, C. E. Rogers, W. C. Case.

Errol, Alton, Cornish, and Salisbury, Plymouth, Rumney, North Groton and Dorchesters, Thirteenth, Chairman: H. L. Kellogg, J. Hooper, J. H. Griffin, E. A. Branson, and Montmorency, South Tamworth, and Wolfeboro, Osceola, A. M. Matteson, and Rev. F. E. Parker, D. D.

Manchester, First Church, Suncook Bow, Hooksett.—N. Culver, Chairman; Wm. H. Thomas, N. L. Chase, James Adams.

Warren, Piermont, Haverhill, North Haverhill, East and West, Franklin, Lancaster, Gilman, L. Lincoln, Franklin, D. P. Peavitt, Chalmers, L. D. Barrows, N. P. Philbrick, N. J. Squires, C. E. Rogers, W. C. Case.

Errol, Alton, Cornish, and Salisbury, Plymouth, Rumney, North Groton and Dorchesters, Thirteenth, Chairman: H. L. Kellogg, J. Hooper, J. H. Griffin, E. A. Branson, and Montmorency, South Tamworth, and Wolfeboro, Osceola, A. M. Matteson, and Rev. F. E. Parker, D. D.

Manchester, First Church, Suncook Bow, Hooksett.—N. Culver, Chairman; Wm. H. Thomas, N. L. Chase, James Adams.

Warren, Piermont, Haverhill, North Haverhill, East and West, Franklin, Lancaster, Gilman, L. Lincoln, Franklin, D. P. Peavitt, Chalmers, L. D. Barrows, N. P. Philbrick, N. J. Squires, C. E. Rogers, W. C. Case.

Errol, Alton, Cornish, and Salisbury, Plymouth, Rumney, North Groton and Dorchesters, Thirteenth, Chairman: H. L. Kellogg, J. Hooper, J. H. Griffin, E. A. Branson, and Montmorency, South Tamworth, and Wolfeboro, Osceola, A. M. Matteson, and Rev. F. E. Parker, D. D.

Manchester, First Church, Suncook Bow, Hooksett.—N. Culver, Chairman; Wm. H. Thomas, N. L. Chase, James Adams.

Warren, Piermont, Haverhill, North Haverhill, East and West, Franklin, Lancaster, Gilman, L. Lincoln, Franklin, D. P. Peavitt, Chalmers, L. D. Barrows, N. P. Philbrick, N. J. Squires, C. E. Rogers, W. C. Case.

Errol, Alton, Cornish, and Salisbury, Plymouth, Rumney, North Groton and Dorchesters, Thirteenth, Chairman: H. L. Kellogg, J. Hooper, J. H. Griffin, E. A. Branson, and Montmorency, South Tamworth, and Wolfeboro, Osceola, A. M. Matteson, and Rev. F. E. Parker, D. D.

ZION'S HERALD AND WESLEYAN JOURNAL, SEPTEMBER 26, 1866.

155

restitution to him. His friends are requested to send him his services, in care of J. P. Magee, 5 Cornhill, Boston, Mass.

Mr. L. O. Gruber, chorister of the Grace M. E. Church, of this city, will open a singing school, Wednesday next, in the vestry of the church. Mr. Gruber has been a professional music teacher for several years.

Rev. Mr. Law, a Methodist Episcopal clergyman of Centreville, Mich., was conducting the services in a church at Muskegon, in that State, Sunday, and as he knelt to make the closing prayer suddenly fell forward and expired.

Two Nova Scotian brethren, Rev. Joseph Hart, of Antigonish, and S. F. Hussey, of Digby, called at office on Friday last. The mission of Mr. Hart is to observe the opening of the Centenary services next month and raise money to relieve a debt of $10,000 hanging over his parish and threatening to the city than in 1864, when the debts were one in about sixteen years. This rate of liquidation is not at all unlikely to be realized. Confidence is freely expressed by well-informed financiers that Secretary McClellan will bring the net indebtedness of the country within the limit of $2,400,000,000 by the close of the current year.

At the close of last year the population of Boston was ascertained to be 199,844. The number of marriages during the year was 27,277, seven less than the preceding year. The number of marriages in which both parties were born in the United States was 10,537, in which both parties were foreign born, 1,191. The number of births was 29,751, or one in 36.46 of the population. This is a great falling off of the number of births in proportion to the population, in 1859 the proportion of births was one in 36.30 of the population. The number of deaths during the year was 4,541, or one in 42.35 of the population. This shows a much healthier state of the city than in 1864, when the deaths were one in 37.17.

Political.

The National Union State Convention (Johnson) of Kansas, nominated J. L. McDonald for Governor, on the 20th inst.

Among the fine paintings in Jenkins' Gallery, Tremont Street, Boston, three prominent ones are by Geo. L. Brown, a member of the Worcester Street M. E. Church, South Boston: "The Bay of Palermo," No. 2; "Castles of St. Elmo," No. 3; "Souvenirs of Italy." No. 8. Bro. Brown is a churchwarden among artists, and we take pleasure in calling attention to his pictures.

Rev. H. G. Jackson, of New Orleans, who was foully maltreated during the late riot, has returned to his former home in Indiana, hoping to recover from his wounds.

Rev. Robert Wallace returned to her home in Ireland by the Scotia, which sailed from New York on Wednesday of last week.

Rev. Alexander Clark, late pastor of the Union Chapel, Cincinnati, has been appointed pastor of the First Methodist Protestant Church, Pittsburgh, Penn.

Rev. J. A. De Forrest has returned to New England, and his correspondents will address him at the M. G. B. Institute, Concord, N. H.

European papers announce the decease of Rev. Dr. Edgar, by heart disease. The Northern Whig says: "Dr. Edgar had done more perhaps than any other member of the Assembly for the extension of the Presbyterians Church. During the last four years fully seven or eight of the meeting-houses in Belfast have been erected by his energy; and throughout Ireland at least fifty of the houses of worship belonging to the Presbyterian Church owe their existence to his persevering efforts."

WEEKLY SUMMARY.

Domestic.

Cattle sold in Texas at $5 a head. The cable across the Gulf of St. Lawrence was completed on the 20th inst.

The rate of taxation in Boston this year is $13 per thousand, which is $2.80 less than last year.

The total circulation issued to the National Banks, up to week before last, was $201,851,515.

The New Hampshire State Fair was held at Nashua last week. The display is said to have been very creditable.

The Director of the U. S. Mint, ex-Gov. Pollock, has resigned, not approving the policy of Mr. Johnson. Mr. Millard is the new Director.

The Southern loyalists visited New York State, and on the 21st inst. had reached Cleveland, Ohio. Gov. Brownlow was seriously ill.

Gen. D. N. Couch is now Collector of Boston, in place of Mr. Hanlon, and George H. Kinney is appointed Postmaster.

The contributions for the relief of the sufferers by the Portland fire will amount to $600,000, having come in from the various friends in other States to go and do likewise.

Forrest.

The Committee recommend and support by arguments the following five conditions of reconstruction:

A State Convention of Soldiers and Sailors was held in Boston, on the 18th inst., Gen. Banks presiding. Resolutions were passed maintaining the claim to an equalization of the bounties; and a just provision by pensions for the support of disabled soldiers and soldiers' widows and dependents; denouncing President Johnson for removing soldiers and appointing "Copperheads" and "conservative" politicians who denounced the war; and demanding that voluntary rebels shall be excluded from power, and adequate guarantees secured for the future safety of the Republic.

With what joy and gladness do the people here the arrival and discovery of Cope's Dyspepsia. It is a sovereign cure for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and all diseases of the stomach.

No lady's wardrobe is complete without Madam's Corn Crisp Skirt. It is incomparably superior to anything of kind ever offered for the approbation of the fair sex. It may be had at all Dry Goods and Fancy stores.

AYER'S AQUE CURE, for the speedy cure of Internal Fever, or Fever and Ague, Remedy from Cope, Turner, & Co., Boston.

A FINE VARIETY of oboe voices arise from its brilliant, in musical districts, among which are New Haven, Connecticut; S. E. Cashins, A. Church, H. C. Corliss, & D. Coates; D. W. Downes; P. Davids, F. D. French, & C. E. Hart; J. H. Kilburn, F. T. George, N. D. George; I. S. Gould, E. P. Gage, S. W. Gould, & C. H. Gould; W. G. Snow—D. S. Smith; S. Sherman; & Stevens 4; Vinton, 1; Webster, 1; Williams, 2; White, 1; and Whistler; F. Warner, 1; Yates, 1.

J. T. MAGEE, Agent, N. E. Depository, 5 Cornhill,

Letters Received from Sept. 15 to Sept. 22.

J. W. Atkinson, Jr.—J. Benney—James Butler—M. H. Brooks—W. Bartlett—Geo. C. Bancroft—J. Burdett—A. C. Clegg—J. C. Converse—J. C. Davis—J. C. Davis—R. C. Foster—S. E. Cashins—A. Church—H. C. Corliss, & D. Coates—D. W. Downes—P. Davids, F. D. French, & C. E. Hart—J. H. Kilburn, F. T. George, N. D. George; I. S. Gould, E. P. Gage, S. W. Gould, & C. H. Gould; W. G. Snow—D. S. Smith; S. Sherman; & Stevens 4; Vinton, 1; Webster, 1; Williams, 2; White, 1; and Whistler; F. Warner, 1; Yates, 1.

Letters Received from Sept. 15 to Sept. 22.

J. W. Atkinson, Jr.—J. Benney—James Butler—M. H. Brooks—W. Bartlett—Geo. C. Bancroft—J. Burdett—A. C. Clegg—J. C. Converse—J. C. Davis—J. C. Davis—R. C. Foster—S. E. Cashins—A. Church—H. C. Corliss, & D. Coates—D. W. Downes—P. Davids, F. D. French, & C. E. Hart—J. H. Kilburn, F. T. George, N. D. George; I. S. Gould, E. P. Gage, S. W. Gould, & C. H. Gould; W. G. Snow—D. S. Smith; S. Sherman; & Stevens 4; Vinton, 1; Webster, 1; Williams, 2; White, 1; and Whistler; F. Warner, 1; Yates, 1.

Letters Received from Sept. 15 to Sept. 22.

J. W. Atkinson, Jr.—J. Benney—James Butler—M. H. Brooks—W. Bartlett—Geo. C. Bancroft—J. Burdett—A. C. Clegg—J. C. Converse—J. C. Davis—J. C. Davis—R. C. Foster—S. E. Cashins, A. Church, H. C. Corliss, & D. Coates—D. W. Downes—P. Davids, F. D. French, & C. E. Hart—J. H. Kilburn, F. T. George, N. D. George; I. S. Gould, E. P. Gage, S. W. Gould, & C. H. Gould; W. G. Snow—D. S. Smith; S. Sherman; & Stevens 4; Vinton, 1; Webster, 1; Williams, 2; White, 1; and Whistler; F. Warner, 1; Yates, 1.

Letters Received from Sept. 15 to Sept. 22.

J. W. Atkinson, Jr.—J. Benney—James Butler—M. H. Brooks—W. Bartlett—Geo. C. Bancroft—J. Burdett—A. C. Clegg—J. C. Converse—J. C. Davis—J. C. Davis—R. C. Foster—S. E. Cashins, A. Church, H. C. Corliss, & D. Coates—D. W. Downes—P. Davids, F. D. French, & C. E. Hart—J. H. Kilburn, F. T. George, N. D. George; I. S. Gould, E. P. Gage, S. W. Gould, & C. H. Gould; W. G. Snow—D. S. Smith; S. Sherman; & Stevens 4; Vinton, 1; Webster, 1; Williams, 2; White, 1; and Whistler; F. Warner, 1; Yates, 1.

Letters Received from Sept. 15 to Sept. 22.

J. W. Atkinson, Jr.—J. Benney—James Butler—M. H. Brooks—W. Bartlett—Geo. C. Bancroft—J. Burdett—A. C. Clegg—J. C. Converse—J. C. Davis—J. C. Davis—R. C. Foster—S. E. Cashins, A. Church, H. C. Corliss, & D. Coates—D. W. Downes—P. Davids, F. D. French, & C. E. Hart—J. H. Kilburn, F. T. George, N. D. George; I. S. Gould, E. P. Gage, S. W. Gould, & C. H. Gould; W. G. Snow—D. S. Smith; S. Sherman; & Stevens 4; Vinton, 1; Webster, 1; Williams, 2; White, 1; and Whistler; F. Warner, 1; Yates, 1.

Letters Received from Sept. 15 to Sept. 22.

J. W. Atkinson, Jr.—J. Benney—James Butler—M. H. Brooks—W. Bartlett—Geo. C. Bancroft—J. Burdett—A. C. Clegg—J. C. Converse—J. C. Davis—J. C. Davis—R. C. Foster—S. E. Cashins, A. Church, H. C. Corliss, & D. Coates—D. W. Downes—P. Davids, F. D. French, & C. E. Hart—J. H. Kilburn, F. T. George, N. D. George; I. S. Gould, E. P. Gage, S. W. Gould, & C. H. Gould; W. G. Snow—D. S. Smith; S. Sherman; & Stevens 4; Vinton, 1; Webster, 1; Williams, 2; White, 1; and Whistler; F. Warner, 1; Yates, 1.

Letters Received from Sept. 15 to Sept. 22.

J. W. Atkinson, Jr.—J. Benney—James Butler—M. H. Brooks—W. Bartlett—Geo. C. Bancroft—J. Burdett—A. C. Clegg—J. C. Converse—J. C. Davis—J. C. Davis—R. C. Foster—S. E. Cashins, A. Church, H. C. Corliss, & D. Coates—D. W. Downes—P. Davids, F. D. French, & C. E. Hart—J. H. Kilburn, F. T. George, N. D. George; I. S. Gould, E. P. Gage, S. W. Gould, & C. H. Gould; W. G. Snow—D. S. Smith; S. Sherman; & Stevens 4; Vinton, 1; Webster, 1; Williams, 2; White, 1; and Whistler; F. Warner, 1; Yates, 1.

Letters Received from Sept. 15 to Sept. 22.

J. W. Atkinson, Jr.—J. Benney—James Butler—M. H. Brooks—W. Bartlett—Geo. C. Bancroft—J. Burdett—A. C. Clegg—J. C. Converse—J. C. Davis—J. C. Davis—R. C. Foster—S. E. Cashins, A. Church, H. C. Corliss, & D. Coates—D. W. Downes—P. Davids, F. D. French, & C. E. Hart—J. H. Kilburn, F. T. George, N. D. George; I. S. Gould, E. P. Gage, S. W. Gould, & C. H. Gould; W. G. Snow—D. S. Smith; S. Sherman; & Stevens 4; Vinton, 1; Webster, 1; Williams, 2; White, 1; and Whistler; F. Warner, 1; Yates, 1.

Letters Received from Sept. 15 to Sept. 22.

J. W. Atkinson, Jr.—J. Benney—James Butler—M. H. Brooks—W. Bartlett—Geo. C. Bancroft—J. Burdett—A. C. Clegg—J. C. Converse—J. C. Davis—J. C. Davis—R. C. Foster—S. E. Cashins, A. Church, H. C. Corliss, & D. Coates—D. W. Downes—P. Davids, F. D. French, & C. E. Hart—J. H. Kilburn, F. T. George, N. D. George; I. S. Gould, E. P. Gage, S. W. Gould, & C. H. Gould; W. G. Snow—D. S. Smith; S. Sherman; & Stevens 4; Vinton, 1; Webster, 1; Williams, 2; White, 1; and Whistler; F. Warner, 1; Yates, 1.

Letters Received from Sept. 15 to Sept. 22.

J. W. Atkinson, Jr.—J. Benney—James Butler—M. H. Brooks—W. Bartlett—Geo. C. Bancroft—J. Burdett—A. C. Clegg—J. C. Converse—J. C. Davis—J. C. Davis—R. C. Foster—S. E. Cashins, A. Church, H. C. Corliss, & D. Coates—D. W. Downes—P. Davids, F. D. French, & C. E. Hart—J. H. Kilburn, F. T. George, N. D. George; I. S. Gould, E. P. Gage, S. W. Gould, & C. H. Gould; W. G. Snow—D. S. Smith; S. Sherman; & Stevens 4; Vinton, 1; Webster, 1; Williams, 2; White, 1; and Whistler; F. Warner, 1; Yates, 1.

Letters Received from Sept. 15 to Sept. 22.

J. W. Atkinson, Jr.—J. Benney—James Butler—M. H. Brooks—W. Bartlett—Geo. C. Bancroft—J. Burdett—A. C. Clegg—J. C. Converse—J. C. Davis—J. C. Davis—R. C. Foster—S. E. Cashins, A. Church, H. C. Corliss, & D. Coates—D. W. Downes—P. Davids, F. D. French, & C. E. Hart—J. H. Kilburn, F. T. George, N. D. George; I. S. Gould, E. P. Gage, S. W. Gould, & C. H. Gould; W. G. Snow—D. S. Smith; S. Sherman; & Stevens 4; Vinton, 1; Webster, 1; Williams, 2; White, 1; and Whistler; F. Warner, 1; Yates, 1.

Letters Received from Sept. 15 to Sept. 22.

J. W. Atkinson, Jr.—J. Benney—James Butler—M. H. Brooks—W. Bartlett—Geo. C. Bancroft—J. Burdett—A. C. Clegg—J. C. Converse—J. C. Davis—J. C. Davis—R. C. Foster—S. E. Cashins, A. Church, H. C. Corliss, & D. Coates—D. W. Downes—P. Davids, F. D. French, & C. E. Hart—J. H. Kilburn, F. T. George, N. D. George; I. S. Gould, E. P. Gage, S. W. Gould, & C. H. Gould; W. G. Snow—D. S. Smith; S. Sherman; & Stevens 4; Vinton, 1; Webster, 1; Williams, 2; White, 1; and Whistler; F. Warner, 1; Yates, 1.

Letters Received from Sept. 15 to Sept. 22.

J. W. Atkinson, Jr.—J. Benney—James Butler—M. H. Brooks—W. Bartlett—Geo. C. Bancroft—J. Burdett—A. C. Clegg—J. C. Converse—J. C. Davis—J. C. Davis—R. C. Foster—S. E. Cashins, A. Church, H. C. Corliss, & D. Coates—D. W. Downes—P. Davids, F. D. French, & C. E. Hart—J. H. Kilburn, F. T. George, N. D. George; I. S. Gould, E. P. Gage, S. W. Gould, & C. H. Gould; W. G. Snow—D. S. Smith; S. Sherman; & Stevens 4; Vinton, 1; Webster, 1; Williams, 2; White, 1; and Whistler; F. Warner, 1; Yates, 1.

Letters Received from Sept. 15 to Sept. 22.

J. W. Atkinson, Jr.—J. Benney—James Butler—M. H. Brooks—W. Bartlett—Geo. C. Bancroft—J. Burdett—A. C. Clegg—J. C. Converse—J. C. Davis—J. C. Davis—R. C. Foster—S. E. Cashins, A. Church, H. C. Corliss, & D. Coates—D. W. Downes—P. Davids, F. D. French, & C. E. Hart—J. H. Kilburn, F. T. George, N. D. George; I. S. Gould, E. P. Gage, S. W. Gould, & C. H. Gould; W. G. Snow—D. S. Smith; S. Sherman; & Stevens 4; Vinton, 1; Webster, 1; Williams, 2; White, 1; and Whistler; F. Warner, 1; Yates, 1.

Letters Received from Sept. 15 to Sept. 22.

J. W. Atkinson, Jr.—J. Benney—James Butler—M. H. Brooks—W. Bartlett—Geo. C. Bancroft—J. Burdett—A. C. Clegg—J. C. Converse—J. C. Davis—J. C. Davis—R. C. Foster—S. E. Cashins, A. Church, H. C. Corliss, & D. Coates—D. W. Downes—P. Davids, F. D. French, & C. E. Hart—J. H. Kilburn, F. T. George, N. D. George; I. S. Gould, E. P. Gage, S. W. Gould, & C. H. Gould; W. G. Snow—D. S. Smith; S. Sherman; & Stevens 4; Vinton, 1; Webster, 1; Williams, 2; White, 1; and Whistler; F. Warner, 1; Yates, 1.

Letters Received from Sept. 15 to Sept. 22.

J. W. Atkinson, Jr.—J. Benney—James Butler—M. H. Brooks—W. Bartlett—Geo. C. Bancroft—J. Burdett—A. C. Clegg—J. C. Converse—J. C. Davis—J. C. Davis—R. C. Foster—S. E. Cashins, A. Church, H.

Poetry.

For Zion's Herald.
CENTENARY TRIBUTE.
Not in an earthly name,
Not with the trumpet of fame
Chant we the lay.
While joy each voice has strung,
Let Jesus' power be sung
By flaming heart and tongue,
On this glad day!

In Wesley's soul of fire
There dwelt no vain desire;
But truth's pure flame,
Warn from the realms of light,
Inspired him by its might,
Inspired him for the right;

Be ours the same.

A hundred years have sped,
With joy and brightness shed
The world to cheer;

And still with quenched rays
Their onward glories stray,
To scatter night away

With effuse clear.

God of eternal love;
Angels in realms above
Thy wonders sing!

The wonders of thy grace
In humbler song we trace;
On earth our dwelling place,

Our tribute bring.

Lighted of a hundred years,
Earth with its glory chears

From sea to sea—

Still may the brightness spread,
Where'er its power is shed,
Waking to life the dead

Through years to be!

H. B. W.

SONG OF THE LEAVES.

We are the children of the trees,
On their giant arms we lie;

And are so fully lulled to sleep
When the night comes down the sky.

Or a merry litl dance

When the leaves come play;

And bring the golden wine

Of the sunlight, all the day.

Then we hide the creeping brood

In their warm and mossy nest,

And we feel the beating low

Of each music-haunted breast.

Through the long and sultry hours

We are the children of the heat

Yonder slater-hand of flowers,

And they give us home sweet.

In the hush of earth and air,

When the crooning storm is near,

How we whisper, how we sigh.

While we tremble over fear.

But the cold of coalition rain

Our lifted faces drip;

And we catch and hide a gem

For the pilgrimage be to.

When we raise our tiny hands,

Where the sons of toll have strayed

In the glaring noonday sun,

How these burn our painful shade.

Here we murmur joyful praise

To the God who gave us life.

With incense of our love

All the Summer days are ripe.

All the beauty and the joy

Of the year we only know,

For we never see the world

But the shadow of snow.

Though we frown in our pride,

Soon we run our race of mirth,

Soon we drop and fade away.

Like the children of the earth.

N. Y. Independent.

Correspondence.

For Zion's Herald.

LETTER FROM LONDON.

In turning my back on our shores to cross the Atlantic for the first time, I felt some as I fancy Adam did when he went out of Eden. He was driven out, to be sure, while I went willingly, expecting to return again and find no flaming sword to keep the way; but for me, as for him, the garden was behind, the wilderness before.

A great stain upon our national honor has in time past destroyed our favorable comparison with the European nations, while it has smitten us with shame, and blighted the fair fields of some of our otherwise most favored States. But now a patriotic army and a kind and just Providence have put away the curse, and we look up again, and need no apology before any nation of the earth. And more, much more, have we gained, than the simple turning of the scales in a moral comparison. The rough exercise of war has made us strong, while the sufferings of the battle-field and the hospital, the blood poured out and lives laid down, the heart-pangs as the ranks have

"closed up" over the places of fallen comrades,

the tears shed at the heartstake for the strong ones who will return no more, and the flood of unrestrained grief at the loss of the people's chosen leader—all patiently endured for the common weal—have bound together the hearts of the people, and developed a stronger attachment and firm devotion to our free and impartial government, our unrestrained churches, and our fair country. But I am talking about America instead of Europe. I purpose, Mr. Editor, to send you this time, a few random notes taken in the Green Isle, and hereafter, by your indulgence, I will send you occasional letters, as convenience permits from here or the Continent.

On the way to Liverpool, after passing Fastnet Rock Light House, at the South—the point of the coast of Ireland, we were frequently hailed by fishing smacks, inquiring whether we wanted any fish. One of these, after offering to take me to Dublin, and then to Liverpool.

London, Aug. 21.

ZION'S HERALD AND

WESLEYAN JOURNAL, SEPTEMBER 26, 1866.

been obliged to make us even that annoyance, and hoping that it would not be so long, i. e. the strict supervision. This is the way Ireland has been watched and kept under since last March, and any person who cannot clear himself of the slightest suspicion of Fenianism is thrust into prison, and there awaits the pleasure of fussy authorities, without any  habeas corpus law, to help him out of durance ville.

Ireland is full of soldiers. The streets of her cities and towns everywhere, especially on the coast, swarm with scarlet coats. Forts that have been without any garrison for many years, have now a full complement.

In about an hour the train took us from Kinsale to Cork, where we were at once besieged by a crowd of beggars, mostly children, but including all ages and both sexes. After finding our hotel, we took a jaunting car, a curious one horse, two wheeled carriage, very common here, and rode out to Blarney Castle, five miles west of the city.

The scenery along the river Lee we found very beautiful. Arrived at the Castle, we obeyed the pilgrim's custom, and paid our respects to the magic Blarney Stone, which is alluded to in the "Reliques of Father Trout."

"There is a stone there,
That never misses,
O! he never misses
To grow eloquent."

This is a stone there,
That never misses,
O! he never misses
To grow eloquent."

This eloquence, however, is unfortunately of that wheeling style which, even in America, we sometimes call blarney. The origin of the word is here, and is due to some popular poetry, which was intended as a burlesque upon some of those wavy ditties with which ignorant pedantry used to astonish the village circles. The Castle was built in the fifteenth century by the Comte of Desmond, and was long the residence of the McCarthys. Cromwell was resisted here, and he is said to have planted his cannon on the hill-side just across the beautiful Blarney Lake, about half a mile from the Castle. Some of the effect of his fire is pointed out by the guide. The Castle is now a complete ruin, and large trees are grown in the old kitchen and drawing-room, around which the uncovered walls are still standing. The donjon is one hundred and twenty feet high, and without heavy ordnance would seem to have been quite impregnable in its prime. A hard rain on our return to Cork did not prevent our retaining very pleasant recollections of Blarney Castle. Cork is a very interesting city in British eyes, but not in mine. It has a population of about eighty thousand, and supports no less than thirty-three pawnbrokers. I hardly need say more than this about the degraded condition of the people. A few pretty streets, and some fine public buildings—not the people—are the attractions of Cork. Queen's College is a flourishing institution, with twenty-one professors, and has a beautiful site on a high rock on the south bank of the Lee. It is an elegant structure in Tudor Gothic style.

Starting next for the famous Lakes of Killarney in the morning, we arrived soon enough to visit Muckross Abbey, and a few other interesting places before dark. Of my way to Killarney, I firmly resolved that I would not go into castles over any ordinary scenery just because it was the fashion;—because I came for to look upon it. But here, tired with my long journey, on this first ride, I was praising the beautiful drives, the mountaineous lakes and the ruins without stint. And after seeing all—after riding in the saddle through the mountain passes, and rowing in a small boat through all the lakes—I still confess to perishing hunger.

How the friends for whose sake he has given up his liberty, and harvests now seem to have been reaped by others, and the seed of wonder has not yet sown. The opening, promising spring of childhood is now past, and the ground is not tillied and the seed of that wonderful harvest is not sowed. The summer of youth and manhood comes and goes; but the present provisions are still fed up, and the hurry for gold is even more rapid. The fall and winter approach. Life's provisions begin to have been quite unprofitable in its prime. A hard rain on our return to Cork did not prevent our retaining very pleasant recollections of Blarney Castle. Cork is a very interesting city in British eyes, but not in mine. It has a population of about eighty thousand, and supports no less than thirty-three pawnbrokers. I hardly need say more than this about the degraded condition of the people. A few pretty streets, and some fine public buildings—not the people—are the attractions of Cork. Queen's College is a flourishing institution, with twenty-one professors, and has a beautiful site on a high rock on the south bank of the Lee. It is an elegant structure in Tudor Gothic style.

Starting next for the famous Lakes of Killarney in the morning, we arrived soon enough to visit Muckross Abbey, and a few other interesting places before dark. Of my way to Killarney, I firmly resolved that I would not go into castles over any ordinary scenery just because it was the fashion;—because I came for to look upon it. But here, tired with my long journey, on this first ride, I was praising the beautiful drives, the mountaineous lakes and the ruins without stint. And after seeing all—after riding in the saddle through the mountain passes, and rowing in a small boat through all the lakes—I still confess to perishing hunger.

How the friends for whose sake he has given up his liberty, and harvests now seem to have been reaped by others, and the seed of wonder has not yet sown. The opening, promising spring of childhood is now past, and the ground is not tillied and the seed of that wonderful harvest is not sowed. The summer of youth and manhood comes and goes; but the present provisions are still fed up, and the hurry for gold is even more rapid. The fall and winter approach. Life's provisions begin to have been quite unprofitable in its prime. A hard rain on our return to Cork did not prevent our retaining very pleasant recollections of Blarney Castle. Cork is a very interesting city in British eyes, but not in mine. It has a population of about eighty thousand, and supports no less than thirty-three pawnbrokers. I hardly need say more than this about the degraded condition of the people. A few pretty streets, and some fine public buildings—not the people—are the attractions of Cork. Queen's College is a flourishing institution, with twenty-one professors, and has a beautiful site on a high rock on the south bank of the Lee. It is an elegant structure in Tudor Gothic style.

Starting next for the famous Lakes of Killarney in the morning, we arrived soon enough to visit Muckross Abbey, and a few other interesting places before dark. Of my way to Killarney, I firmly resolved that I would not go into castles over any ordinary scenery just because it was the fashion;—because I came for to look upon it. But here, tired with my long journey, on this first ride, I was praising the beautiful drives, the mountaineous lakes and the ruins without stint. And after seeing all—after riding in the saddle through the mountain passes, and rowing in a small boat through all the lakes—I still confess to perishing hunger.

How the friends for whose sake he has given up his liberty, and harvests now seem to have been reaped by others, and the seed of wonder has not yet sown. The opening, promising spring of childhood is now past, and the ground is not tillied and the seed of that wonderful harvest is not sowed. The summer of youth and manhood comes and goes; but the present provisions are still fed up, and the hurry for gold is even more rapid. The fall and winter approach. Life's provisions begin to have been quite unprofitable in its prime. A hard rain on our return to Cork did not prevent our retaining very pleasant recollections of Blarney Castle. Cork is a very interesting city in British eyes, but not in mine. It has a population of about eighty thousand, and supports no less than thirty-three pawnbrokers. I hardly need say more than this about the degraded condition of the people. A few pretty streets, and some fine public buildings—not the people—are the attractions of Cork. Queen's College is a flourishing institution, with twenty-one professors, and has a beautiful site on a high rock on the south bank of the Lee. It is an elegant structure in Tudor Gothic style.

Starting next for the famous Lakes of Killarney in the morning, we arrived soon enough to visit Muckross Abbey, and a few other interesting places before dark. Of my way to Killarney, I firmly resolved that I would not go into castles over any ordinary scenery just because it was the fashion;—because I came for to look upon it. But here, tired with my long journey, on this first ride, I was praising the beautiful drives, the mountaineous lakes and the ruins without stint. And after seeing all—after riding in the saddle through the mountain passes, and rowing in a small boat through all the lakes—I still confess to perishing hunger.

How the friends for whose sake he has given up his liberty, and harvests now seem to have been reaped by others, and the seed of wonder has not yet sown. The opening, promising spring of childhood is now past, and the ground is not tillied and the seed of that wonderful harvest is not sowed. The summer of youth and manhood comes and goes; but the present provisions are still fed up, and the hurry for gold is even more rapid. The fall and winter approach. Life's provisions begin to have been quite unprofitable in its prime. A hard rain on our return to Cork did not prevent our retaining very pleasant recollections of Blarney Castle. Cork is a very interesting city in British eyes, but not in mine. It has a population of about eighty thousand, and supports no less than thirty-three pawnbrokers. I hardly need say more than this about the degraded condition of the people. A few pretty streets, and some fine public buildings—not the people—are the attractions of Cork. Queen's College is a flourishing institution, with twenty-one professors, and has a beautiful site on a high rock on the south bank of the Lee. It is an elegant structure in Tudor Gothic style.

Starting next for the famous Lakes of Killarney in the morning, we arrived soon enough to visit Muckross Abbey, and a few other interesting places before dark. Of my way to Killarney, I firmly resolved that I would not go into castles over any ordinary scenery just because it was the fashion;—because I came for to look upon it. But here, tired with my long journey, on this first ride, I was praising the beautiful drives, the mountaineous lakes and the ruins without stint. And after seeing all—after riding in the saddle through the mountain passes, and rowing in a small boat through all the lakes—I still confess to perishing hunger.

How the friends for whose sake he has given up his liberty, and harvests now seem to have been reaped by others, and the seed of wonder has not yet sown. The opening, promising spring of childhood is now past, and the ground is not tillied and the seed of that wonderful harvest is not sowed. The summer of youth and manhood comes and goes; but the present provisions are still fed up, and the hurry for gold is even more rapid. The fall and winter approach. Life's provisions begin to have been quite unprofitable in its prime. A hard rain on our return to Cork did not prevent our retaining very pleasant recollections of Blarney Castle. Cork is a very interesting city in British eyes, but not in mine. It has a population of about eighty thousand, and supports no less than thirty-three pawnbrokers. I hardly need say more than this about the degraded condition of the people. A few pretty streets, and some fine public buildings—not the people—are the attractions of Cork. Queen's College is a flourishing institution, with twenty-one professors, and has a beautiful site on a high rock on the south bank of the Lee. It is an elegant structure in Tudor Gothic style.

Starting next for the famous Lakes of Killarney in the morning, we arrived soon enough to visit Muckross Abbey, and a few other interesting places before dark. Of my way to Killarney, I firmly resolved that I would not go into castles over any ordinary scenery just because it was the fashion;—because I came for to look upon it. But here, tired with my long journey, on this first ride, I was praising the beautiful drives, the mountaineous lakes and the ruins without stint. And after seeing all—after riding in the saddle through the mountain passes, and rowing in a small boat through all the lakes—I still confess to perishing hunger.

How the friends for whose sake he has given up his liberty, and harvests now seem to have been reaped by others, and the seed of wonder has not yet sown. The opening, promising spring of childhood is now past, and the ground is not tillied and the seed of that wonderful harvest is not sowed. The summer of youth and manhood comes and goes; but the present provisions are still fed up, and the hurry for gold is even more rapid. The fall and winter approach. Life's provisions begin to have been quite unprofitable in its prime. A hard